

PRESS RELEASE

Armistice Day in Loughton

Town Mayor, Councillor Carol Davies led the tributes on Kings Green at 11am on the 11th day of November 2016.

Ex-service men joined councillors, council staff and local residents in the two minutes silence marking the anniversary of this day in 1918 when the guns finally stopped at the end of the First World War.

Students from Staples Road Primary School laid handmade poppy wreaths at the memorial.

The annual remembrance parade will be held on Sunday 13 November leaving the Royal British Legion Headquarters at Church Hill at 11.50am for the service on Kings Green at 12.15pm.
